

VEHICLE BUILDER

Tailor-made telematics solutions

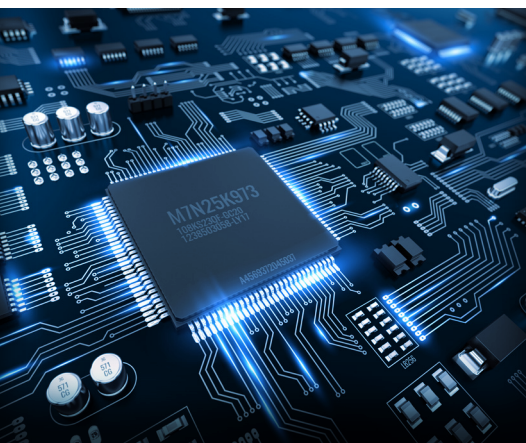

No matter whether your company produces HGVs, trailers, construction machinery, service vehicles or products such as superstructures, we can provide you with the use of our telematics as an OEM solution under your brand name.

We can respond to the special requirements for your products with our White Label. You can benefit from our 20 years of experience in the specification and development of telematics systems, terminal device software, communication servers, MMI and portal-end/back-end solutions as well as analysis and evaluation of BigData. You can freely select the storage location for your data, be it at idem telematics or on your company's own storage resources. You can also rely on the expertise which we have gained in successfully equipping over 60,000 units to date.

If you wish, hardware and software can appear with the idem telematics logo, as a visible brand telematics or under your own company name and logo. You can thereby position your own telematics solution in the market.

Profit from our knowledge! It will ensure innovative and reliable telematics as well as significant cost savings compared with in-house development investment.

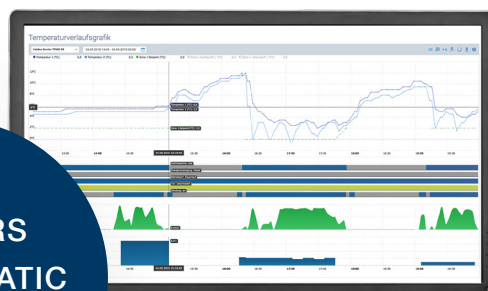

Configure your own individual telematics solution. Our experts are always available to support you.
